Dear CTECS staff, students and families,

Yesterday, Governor Ned Lamont and Education Commissioner Miguel Cardona announced guidelines for the reopening of all Connecticut schools this fall. You can read the announcement and find supporting documentation here.

CTECS is currently reviewing the guidelines and using them to develop the reopening plans for Connecticut's technical high schools. Our top priority while planning is ensuring the health and safety of everyone in our school buildings. As such, our final plans will consider multiple reopening scenarios should public health data change over the coming weeks and months. We anticipate sharing these plans with you in July.

We know you are eager to get back to in-person instruction this fall, and so are we. I continue to be appreciative of your patience and understanding during this time.

Have a safe and relaxing summer.

Jeff Wihbey
